

Terps' First Heavy Drills Aimed at Stopping Rauch

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 27.—Maryland's football team, here for Thursday's Gator Bowl game against Georgia, went through two workouts today, a signal drill in the morning and a tough two-hour scrimmage session in the afternoon.

Pleasant weather greeted the Terrapins as they took part in their first real practices since a week ago yesterday. The skies were cloudless, the temperature 65 degrees and a pleasant breeze blowing. Nothing much more than loosening up was accomplished yesterday in a short workout after a late arrival, but today the Old Line squad really got down to work.

Four full teams on the Naval Air Station field, 15 miles from town, where the Terrapins are staying, divided their work between polishing the Maryland offenses and tightening a defense against Georgia plays. The footballers were in excellent spirit and really enjoyed bucking down to practice again. A well-rounded program of practice and relaxation has been arranged to keep the morale high.

Much attention today was put on Maryland's pass defenses designed to stop Georgia's Johnny Rauch, the country's second-best collegiate aerial yard-gainer this season. Quarterbacks Jack Targaroni and Stanford Levine, who took the part of Rauch in tossing passes at the Terrapins, completed all too many of their heaves, and indications that much of the time between now and Thursday will be spent on pass defense.

Coach Jim Tatum of Maryland has been fortunate enough to obtain good scouting reports on Georgia and has had time to design defenses against Bulldog formations. Georgia's running plays, as worked here today by Maryland players, were stopped fairly consistently. It is the passing attack that's clicking.

Maryland's own plays are doing well. The Terps lost little of their timing during a week's layoff and all right back into running plays as though the last previous drill was only yesterday. From what his squad showed yesterday, Coach Tatum has added very little that's new to the Old Line attack, preferring to rely mainly on plays that the boys learned well during their 10-game regular schedule.

Today's double drill was the only really heavy schedule outlined for the Terrapins. They'll drill only once a day hereafter and with no more scrimmages. A morning drill was scheduled tomorrow after church, and for the remainder of the week practices will be in the afternoon, with chalk talks in the morning. For relaxation, a program of light entertainment has been arranged.

Tomorrow afternoon the squad will visit Marineland, just below St. Augustine, about 30 miles from here. Monday night will be Maryland Night at the dog race track, with a special Maryland Handicap Race as an added feature. For the remainder of the time it will be early to bed for the Terrapins.

Georgia's team arrives here on Monday and will stay at a downtown hotel and practice at the city baseball park.

Abandoned Horses Found Starving

By the Associated Press

OTTAWA, Dec. 27.—Police today searched for the persons who abandoned five race horses at the Connaught race track, across the Ottawa River from the capital.

The horses were found Wednesday in a starving and emaciated condition and one had to be destroyed.

T. P. Gorman, president of the Connaught Racing Club, said the horses had been brought here in August by Joe Blinstock of Providence, R. I. He said Blinstock had sold the horses.

Record 64,000 See Call Bell Score as Santa Anita Opens

By the Associated Press

ARCADIA, Calif., Dec. 27.—Thoroughbred racing came back to Santa Anita Park with a flourish today as a record opening day crowd of 64,000 turned out to see Call Bell ring out a victory in the $50,000 added California breeders' championship stakes at one mile.

Laying claim to the championship of California bred 2-year-olds, the classy bay son of Alibhai came from behind in the stretch, whipping the favored entry of Solidarity and Grandpere and winning the feature by three lengths.

Jockey Jack Westrope stayed off the pace set by Johnny Longden and Grandpere. When Grandpere faded in the stretch and Solidarity, the favorite, faded in the stretch, Westrope stayed off the pace set by Johnny Longden and Grandpere. When Grandpere faded in the stretch and Solidarity, the favorite, faded in the stretch, Westrope stayed off the pace set by Johnny Longden and Grandpere.

Grandpere wound up fourth as the little regarded Shawandasee grabbed third behind Solidarity in the seven-horse field.

Golden Glory, Flaming Beau and War Phantom brought up the rear as the mile clicked off in 1:36.7.

"It's a little late, but this is certainly a beautiful Christmas present," said Miss Mary M. Strand of suburban Canoga Park, owner of Call Bell.

Highly favored With Pleasure, thrice conqueror of Armed, made a show of the field in winning the championship feature, the $10,000 Monrovia Cup purse, and looms as a strong contender for the $50,000 Santa Anita handicap. The Brolite Farm four-year-old into the lead in the stretch and won going away from Rippey. Autocar was third and Mafiosa, the early pace setter, fourth. Owners Choice was scratched.

Adding to the superlatives, the winner, 62 degrees—the hottest, and the betting handle for the eight race program was $2,726,433, surpassing the same day's handle of $2,593,757 last year.

Utah Licks Canisius
BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 27 (AP).—Utah's Cinderella Kids, National Invitation Basketball Tournament champs, opened their annual Eastern invasion tonight by conquering Canisius, 41-36, before a memorial auditorium turnout crowd of 10,619, which also watched Niagara upset Southern California, 46-43, in the first game of the double header.

OUTDOORS

While Friday morning's snowstorm pretty well sewed up the season for upland game for the time being, especially in Maryland where the last day is December 31, we still have the balance of the week for duck hunting in this zone. Then, too, Virginia's season for upland game continues until January 20 east of the Blue Ridge. So there is still much time for activity for hunters in this vicinity.

Cold weather to the contrary, there are yellow perch to be caught by hardy anglers venturing to the South and Severn rivers near Annapolis, and some few little fellows at Allens Fresh on the headwaters of the Potomac. The white perch are biting fairly well in the Sandgate and Broome Island section of the Patuxent as well as over on the Eastern Shore.

But in spite of the windup of the hunting and fishing seasons, generally speaking, there still is much the sportsman can find to do to while away his idle hours.

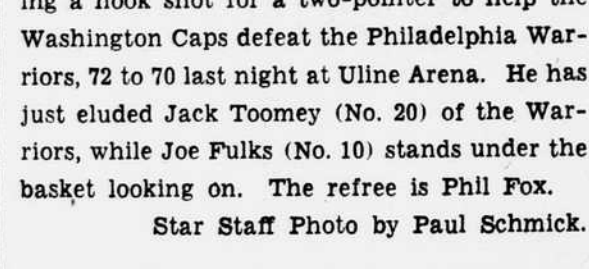

Gunsners always can put in some good licks against that wily marauder, the crow, and already some addicts of this sport are finding more interest in it than in upland game shooting. The crow is a mighty worthy adversary, being just about the smartest bird that flies. As Bert Popowski, America's dean of crow shooters, describes him, "No bird so nicely blends wariness with boldness, intelligence with craftiness, and a capacity for making himself at home wherever he can."

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Dec. 27.—The West Virginia University athletic department has presented a life pass for all Mountaineer home games to Mrs. George Hardwick, the woman who discovered a fire in the fieldhouse here December 9 and reported it to the fire department.

The fire damaged about 120 seats, which already have been replaced. Fire department officials said, however, that if the blaze had gone unreported half an hour longer, it would have destroyed the basketball floor and many more seats.

Menendez Lining Up New Turner Fights

By the Associated Press

With Matchmaker Gabe Menendez back today from a sojourn in his native Tampa, Fla., professional boxing activities for Turner's Arena for next year are due for some booming.

Menendez announced that his next show would be on Monday night, January 5, and that it would offer some boys who during the last six months have moved into popular favor.

One bout Menendez plans to stage next month is between Johnny "Honey" Williams, of New York, and Stonewall Jackson, the unbeaten local colored fighter. Williams is the boy who beat Bertie Jones here about six weeks ago.

Also on the winter slate are Frank Sweeney, the popular south-east middleweight, and Ken Strickling, Sweeney's beat Bee Washington in a big upset some months ago, while Strickling provided just as much a surprise when he trimmed the highly-touted Baltimorean, Frank Lacey.

Lujack, on Bullseye, Helps Make East 8-Point Choice

By the Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—The west squad will burst forth in the royal blue and dark gold uniforms for the Shriners' charity East-West football game in Kezar Stadium on New Year Day. East players will wear white and red.

But before the players rush from the stadium tunnels to the frenzied plaudits of some 60,000 spectators, there remains a lot of scrimmaging and other practice to be done.

Coach Don Faurot, of Missouri, said he was not satisfied because the West team lacked smoothness. He scheduled two more rough scrimmages before the players warm up next Wednesday, the day before the annual classic which is played for the benefit of the Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children. A light warmup also is scheduled tomorrow.

Faurot said five players were outstanding in scrimmage yesterday—Tackles Arnie Weinmeister of Washington and Paul Briggs of Colorado; Ends Harry Agler of U.C.L.A. and Don Paul U.C.L.A. at center; George Quist, Stanford, at fullback, was praised for his blocking.
